A World-Class University

For a World-Class City

Development Concept

A Continuing Mission

With a vision to match the highest international standards, the faculties and the whole institution will focus on raising the quality of research, teaching and the overall learning experience. An ambitious strategic development plan is in place to enable the University to scale new heights.

Academic Excellence — to further its ambition to be among the very best universities in the world, HKU will increase its staff student ratio and encourage interdisciplinary cooperation and team work in research and teaching. The aim is to enhance both teaching and research capabilities and ensure the value of our graduates and our institutional reputation.

New courses, Undergraduate Curriculum — by 2012, student numbers will increase by 20% and students will be offered a broader and more flexible learning experience.

Community Engagement — IMI will enhance and diversify the availability of its many resources, and will proudly support lifelong learning for Hong Kong people through community programmes.

Internationalization — in the last five years, the University will boost the number of overseas students by more than 50%, and will maintain the international profile of the academic staff. This will also help to improve the international competitiveness of all its departments.

Space Planning and Management — the University aims to use its resources as efficiently as possible, to increase the academic output, while providing a balanced environment for study and leisure, including indoor and outdoor spaces.

The university is ranked in the top 50 universities in the world. It is a leading university in Asia and one of the best universities in the world. The university is committed to excellence in teaching, research and community engagement.

When will this happen?

We are working on master planning concepts and design ideas for the Centennial Campus Development. Plans and these should be available early in 2006. We are also seeking funding support from the Government and private sources. Subject to consultation with stakeholders and fund raising support, construction work will start in the fourth quarter of 2006.

THE UNIVERSITY OF HONG KONG
The HKU Vision

The University of Hong Kong, as a pre-eminent international university in Asia, seeks to sustain and enhance its excellence as an institution of higher learning through outstanding teaching and world-class research so as to produce well-rounded graduates with lifelong abilities to provide leadership within the societies they serve.

Building the way ahead — the Centennial Campus

To accomplish all this, the University has to develop its physical estate. The site is the west of the Main Campus has been identified as an appropriate location for the necessary new campus.

The proposed ‘Centennial Campus’ offers Hong Kong and the University the possibility of:

- a green oasis in Western District, including plenty of trees, with public facilities, open spaces and most importantly, more lifelong-learning opportunities for Hong Kong people in a new ‘university district’
- improved access by public transport, via a new MTR station on the West Island Line
- a 21st century campus with a learning commons, university plaza, lecture theatres and state-of-the-art facilities needed for the new learning environment
- a strategic location that will enhance the integration of the whole university with additional academic and other buildings in fitting architectural design, and improved student access to various facilities.
