Completion of curriculum

LL 38. The curriculum shall comprise approximately 150 hours of prescribed work normally extending over a minimum of one academic year and a maximum of two academic years of part-time study. To complete the curriculum a candidate shall follow the equivalent of four modules as prescribed by the syllabus;

- (a) satisfactorily complete all prescribed written and other work;
 - (b) satisfy attendance requirements, if any;
 - (c) satisfy the examiners in each module by either assessed written work carried during the course or a written examination at the end of the module or both; and
 - (d) satisfy the examiners in an oral examination if such an examination is required.

Dissertation

LL 39. A candidate, whether full-time or part-time, who elects to submit a dissertation equivalent to one module shall submit the title not later than six months before presenting the dissertation for examination. The dissertation must be presented not later than August 31 of the year in which the candidate would like to graduate.

LL 40. In exceptional circumstances a candidate may apply to the Faculty Board for an extension of the period within which the dissertation must be presented.

LL 41. The candidate shall submit a statement that the dissertation represents his or her own work undertaken after registration as a candidate for the degree. The examiners may require an oral examination on the subject of the dissertation.

Failure to satisfy the examiners

LL 42. A candidate who has failed to satisfy the examiners in not more than two modules in any academic year may be permitted

- (a) to attend a supplementary examination; or
- (b) to repeat the module(s) in the following academic year and to re-take the prescribed examination or examinations; or

- (c) to re-take the prescribed examination or examinations in the following academic year without repeating the module(s) ; or
- (d) to undertake the study of an alternative module(s) in the following academic year and to take the prescribed examination or examinations.

LL 43. A candidate who has failed to present a satisfactory dissertation may be permitted, subject to his performance in other examinations, to revise the dissertation and to re-present it within a specified period as determined by the Board of Examiners after receiving a notice that it is unsatisfactory.

LL 44. A candidate who is not permitted to present himself for re-examination in any paper or papers in which he or she has failed to satisfy the examiners or to revise and re-present the dissertation shall be recommended for discontinuation of studies under General Regulation G 12.

Absence from an examination

LL 45. A candidate who is unable through illness or other acceptable reason to attend for examination may apply for permission to attend for examination at some other time.

Examination results

LL 46. At the conclusion of the examination a pass list shall be published. A candidate who has shown exceptional merit at the whole examination may be awarded a mark of distinction and this mark shall be recorded in the candidate's diploma.

Conversion to Master's programmes

LL 46(a). A candidate who has satisfied the examiners in all the modules of any of the Postgraduate Diploma programmes may be considered for conversion to the Master of Laws or the corresponding Master's programme, provided his or her application for conversion has been submitted to the Chairman of the Faculty Higher Degrees Committee before a certain date specified by the Faculty. A candidate who satisfies the examiners in all the modules in the Master's programme shall be awarded the master's degree but shall not qualify for the award of the Postgraduate Diploma. The candidate shall be awarded the relevant Postgraduate Diploma if he or she has not completed the requirements for the award of the Master's degree.

SYLLABUSES FOR THE POSTGRADUATE DIPLOMAS

OBJECTIVES

The Postgraduate Diplomas are offered by the Faculty of Law to meet the need of the Hong Kong community for specialised postgraduate law courses.

STRUCTURE

Candidates shall follow the equivalent of 4 modules. Candidates may be permitted to choose any of the modules available under the Master's programme, in addition to the modules already listed in the syllabuses for the four Postgraduate Diplomas.

DISSERTATION

This shall comprise a paper not exceeding 10,000 words (exclusive of tables of cases and statutes, notes, appendices and bibliographies) on a legal topic approved by the Faculty Higher Degrees Committee. The dissertation must provide evidence of original work or a capacity for critical analysis.

COURSEWORK

The Board of Examiners shall decide what proportion of the final assessment for each module shall be determined by written work carried out during the course. Candidates will be informed at the beginning of the course of the relative proportions of the final assessment to be derived from coursework and from written examinations which will be held at the end of the teaching programme.
